

New Haven Green Drinks presents...

New Haven's very first green happy hour/book swap!

What: New friends, a drink or two, a used book (optional), and everything green at New Haven's best (and only) green happy hour. This time, if it fits your fancy, please bring a book you no longer want and swap it with a new friend. (The book doesn't have to be green but your new friend does.)

When: February 20th from 6:00 – 7:30pm

Where: Anna Liffey's, 17 Whitney Ave., downtown New Haven - (203) 773-1776 (See below map.)

Who: You and Josh Friedman. Josh is an organizer with the Connecticut Fund for the Environment and will be giving a short talk on the Stop Global Warming Connecticut campaign, which wants to pass legislation at the state level to institute a mandatory cap on greenhouse gas emissions for the entire state of Connecticut. Also, please bring your friends and loved ones. If you bring your mom, I'll buy you a drink. (Offer only good with photo ID or chocolate chip cookies.)

Why: Cause we deserve it! Find solidarity at New Haven's only environmental happy hour where folks interested in sustainability, corporate social responsibility and eco this and that all gather together once a month. Don't Drink? Don't worry. We offer hugs as well.

Remember to bike, walk, bus or carpool. See you there!

- New Haven Green Drinks

Anna Liffey's:

New Haven Green Drinks is an informal monthly opportunity for anyone interested in Corporate Social Responsibility, environmental conservation, carbon finance, sustainable development, etc. to meet, chat, and network. We are a self-organizing group and there are no fees, so make sure to spread the word to friends and colleagues.

New Haven Green Drinks meets on the third Wednesday of each month from 6:00pm-7:30pm in downtown New Haven.

To add (or remove) your name to/from the New Haven Green Drinks email list, please email co-hosts Justin Elicker and Debra Lombard at newhavengreendrinks@gmail.com.
